

Video interview with Sir John Daniel, former President and CEO, Commonwealth of Learning by France 24 International News. Marc Perelman meets Sir John Daniel to talk about the open educational resources movement. It's an initiative that provides online teaching, learning, and research resources but also helps developing countries improve access to education and training, July 2012.